LIVING WITH THE CHALLENGE OF DISABILITY - REAL LIFE PERSPECTIVES

Steve Dacey a member of the emerging Oadby, Wigston and South Wigston Disability Forum spoke from his perspective on the challenges of being a wheelchair user living in an urban environment.

Ongoing key issues raised were;

- Vehicle users parking inconsiderately on kerbsides.
- Access to super store shopping is limited. Accessing Lidl in South Wigston is easy but egress using a motorised wheelchair to use a steep ramp to traverse Station Road is very challenging. The gradient is too steep.
- Some of the shops in Wigston have neither ramps nor lifts to support entry into shops.
- Shop doorways are not all wide enough to allow wheelchair access.
- Entry to Blaby Road Park is difficult his is due to the opening mechanism.
- Dog faeces left on pavements are offensive especially if a wheelchair accidentally goes through it.
- On domestic bin collection days the bin is not always manageable to take to the kerbside. It was explained that the Council maintains an Assisted Collection List to support households with the emptying of bins. This Assisted Collection list is maintained by Customer Services on Bell Street.
- The Depot at Oadby were requested to ensure household dustbins were placed away from the centre of pavements. This still remains an issue.
- Dustbins left in the middle of pavements are an obstacle.
- Accessing local bus transport when pram users with grocery shopping take over wheelchair space is frustrating.
- The Community Engagement Officer provides support to the developing Oadby, Wigston and South Wigston Disability Forum.

Action:

- SD is to speak with Councillor Boyce outside of the meeting to address some of the issues raised.

Action:

- VQ is to find out about the assisted collection service and have information about it placed in Letterbox.

39.

LEICESTER SOUTH FOODBANK - HELPING LOCAL PEOPLE IN CRISIS

Brian Harrison from Leicester South Foodbank lead by the Trussell Trust made the key points concerning how the Foodbank helps and supports people dealing with food poverty.

- The food is distributed from the Kings Centre on Bull Head Street, Wigston. The Foodbank initially served 500 people. Its goal is to help people out of food poverty by 2026.
- By the year end it is expected that the Foodbank will have served 4,000 people.

- It operates on Mondays and uses the Red Voucher Scheme. A voucher is issued which is then redeemed. Approximately forty vouchers are distributed monthly. A weekly voucher can cover a family of five. A parcel can last anything from two to three days. 35 to 40 people are seen fortnightly.
- There is a support service in schools. Only the school families receive a service.
- 75 to 100 food parcels a fortnight are distributed to schools and other hubs. There are six hubs.
- A service is provided at South Leicester College and the two local universities.
- Young people are helped with food spending guidance. Student support offer a wraparound service and offer food parcels.
- Some people are living on toast and butter.
- Education and Welfare Services are working with the Foodbank.
- The Foodbank has a van to pick up food. Food can now be distributed five days a week.
- Supermarkets such as ASDA provide food donations.
- Food supplies are also provided by the Muslim Community on occasions such as Ramadam.
- The Trussell Trust is trying to target and make people aware of the foods it needs for distribution and it also support the independent food banks.
- The Foodbank has worked with the Council's Customer Service Centre from the beginning. Initial referrals come through Customer Services.
- Some people abuse the Foodbank. This is not condoned but no one is turned away. Abuse can lead to Police and Trading Standards action if such abuse is regular.
- More in-work families appear to be using Foodbanks.
- More coordination is taking place between agencies to ensure food is stored and collected so there is no waste.
- All Foodbanks are volunteer run.
- Some families appear to only struggle once a month with having enough food.
- People on Universal Credit also access the foodbank. This can be due to people having to wait at least six weeks for Universal Credit.
- South Leicester Salvation Army receives 30 to forty parcels. The Community Fridge in Wigston is supplied by the Foodbank.
- Fareshare provides fresh produce to the Foodbank.
- The needs of people are tiered. They receive an emergency allocation.
- People are referred to Helping Hands for debt recovery service at Trinity Methodist Church in Oadby.
- Numbers of people with the challenges of mental health and disability are being seen.

40. UNIVERSAL CREDIT UPDATE

Mick Bullock provided an update paper covering key points about Universal Credit. The paper includes;

- Information on changes to Universal Credit.
- How people can be helped to claim Universal Credit.
- The impact of Universal Credit on residents, especially moving into work and off of benefits.
- Universal Credit payments and claiming other benefits.
- The local development of Universal Credit.
- Increase in the use of Foodbanks.
- Mixed age couples claiming Universal Credit.
- Homelessness and the increased demand for advice and support.
- Universal Credit take up in the borough reflecting that countrywide.
- Mick Bullock may bring a case study which reflects work done by Helping hands and Citizens Advice Bureau to the next meeting. There are 300 claimants in Oadby and Wigston.
- 700 people are moving from Housing Benefits to Universal Credit.
- Universal Credit claimants have to sign up online. This can prove problematic for those not digitally savvy or not in possession of all the information they require. People are encouraged to use Customer Services on Bell Street for IT assistance.CAB and Helping Hands can also help.
- Some Universal Credit applications can be backdated.
- Advanced Payment Loans are available.

Action:

- It was agreed to share the contact details for Oadby and Wigston Borough Council Revenues and Benefits Team which is included in the update circulated at the meeting.

Action:

- Circulate the Universal Credit update paper provided to all.
